Reflection.

Reflection on the Gospel-5th Sunday of Lent Year B (John 12:20-33)

-Veronica Lawson RSM

Today's gospel tells us that among those who go up to Jerusalem to worship at the feast of Passover are some "Greeks". The reference is probably to a group known in the early church as "God-fearers", although that designation is found only in Luke's second volume, the Acts of the Apostles. These people were a bit like RCIA candidates in relation to Judaism. They were certainly interested in Judaism and, because of their active interest in the Jewish faith and traditions, were possibly better informed about many of the Jewish traditions than those who had been members of the Jewish community all their lives. God-fearers seem to have been among the first Gentiles (non-Jews) to join the early Christian Jewish movement, i.e. the Jews who accepted Jesus as Messiah (or Christ).

For Jesus, the arrival of these God-fearing Greeks signals his "hour". Earlier in John's gospel, Jesus has insisted that his "hour" had not yet come. Now that his message receives global acknowledgement, or in the words of the Pharisees, now that "the world has gone after him" (John 20:19), he can announce that the hour of his glorification has come. Characteristically, Jesus uses a potent agricultural image to capture the transformative nature of his imminent death: like the grain of wheat, he must go into the earth and die in order to bear fruit. The same is true for his followers: to be concerned only with self-preservation is to "lose" one's life; to give one's life is to "keep it for eternal life".

Although the language is more explicit in John, the grain of wheat image echoes some aspects of the first reading from the prophet Jeremiah (31:31-34). Jeremiah presents the God of Israel as One who forgives and who is even prepared to forget the sins of the past. The people will be God's garden: the seed planted within them is God's Law. They will be God's own billboard: the law of forgiveness and mercy will be written in their hearts. John uses the "eternal life" metaphor in much the same way as the other gospel writers use the "reign of God" or "kin-dom" image. To keep one's life for "eternal life" has to do with living God's transformative vision for creation in the present so that it might one day be fully realised.

In John's gospel, Jesus' death is also his being lifted up in glory. The moment of his death becomes the moment of drawing "all" to himself. The "all" includes all people, but is not restricted to the human community. It also allows for an ecological interpretation: in his death and exaltation, Jesus gathers the whole Earth community into the mystery of God's redemptive and transforming love.

Bullying No Way Day will be held this Friday in schools across Australia. Essentially, this day is to annually highlight the importance of collectively saying no to bullying. As orange is the colour of significance for the day, we have invited the children to wear an item of orange clothing or ribbon if they wish this Friday. In addition to this, each class has planned an activity to focus on our response to bullying and this will be supported by a whole school assembly. The best defence against bullying is to create a culture where bullying is not tolerated. This comes from school leadership, staff, parents and the children. Our school motto of 'Jesus in Each Other' is in complete contrast to the acceptance of any form of bullying. The Trivia/Casino 'Fun' Night is not far away - Friday 27/4. Tickets are available from the school office. The Coles Sport for Schools Programme is back, so please if you shop at Coles, collect the vouchers for us.

The St. Veronica Welfare Committee

supports the Salesian Sisters in Calcutta as they care for the poorest children in their Shelter homes. They are attempting to offer them all round education and that they are morally protected. The Sisters initiate "Self-Help Groups" for local girls and women. Through their Dispensary they are caring for 25 villages, empowering 1000 mothers – which means 1000 families are having instruction in Health Care. The Sisters are very much aware that the English language is vital for communication and are doing all they can to teach those in their care. I have the audacity to believe that peoples everywhere can have three meals a day for their bodies, education and culture for their minds, and dignity, equality and freedom for their spirits. I believe that what self-centred men have torn down other-centred can build up. I still believe that one day mankind will bow before the altars of God and be crowned triumphant over war and bloodshed, and nonviolent redemptive goodwill will proclaim the rule of the land. And the lion and the lamb shall lie down together and every man shall sit under his own vine and fig tree and none shall be afraid. I still believe that we shall overcome.

Martin Luther King.
